

Portrait of Samuel Richardson by Francis Hayman

Acquisition of the painting 'Samuel Richardson, the Novelist (1689-1761), Seated surrounded by His Second Family'. Samuel Richardson was the author of 'Pamela' considered to be a seminal work of British literature.

Image

Francis Hayman, Samuel Richardson, the Novelist (1684-1761), Seated, Surrounded by his Second Family

Region

London

Grant awarded

£500,000

Year awarded

2006

Related News

Tate to hang Hayman

Samuel Richardson, the Novelist (1684-1761), Seated, Surrounded by his Second Family, 1740-41, will go on display at Tate Britain from 8 – 28 August 2006. The National Heritage Memorial Fund made a generous grant of £500,000 towards the purchase, The Art Fund awarded a grant of £150,000, Tate Members gave £100,000 and the remaining £250,000 came from Tate acquisition funds.