

Purchase of a Portrait of Lady Dacre and Son

The National Portrait Gallery wish to purchase a portrait of Mary Neville, Lady Dacre and her son, Gregory Fiennes painted in 1559 by Hans Eworth.

Image

Hans Eworth's Lady Dacre, and her son, Gregory Baron Dacre

Nation/region

London

Grant awarded

£377,500

Award date

21/10/2008

Related News

National Portrait gallery acquires tudor double portrait - a gem of matriarchal power

The National Portrait Gallery has acquired Hans Eworth's Lady Dacre, and her son, Gregory Baron Dacre, described as 'one of the finest works to be painted in Britain in the mid-16th century'.