

Acquisition of the Simon Heneage Collection

William Heath Robinson (1872–1944) was one of the leading illustrators of his day. This collection of 410 drawings and paintings includes some of the finest examples of Heath Robinson's work. The collection has a heavy emphasis on his humorous works and includes many of his most well-known First and Second World War cartoons. The works will be displayed at the new Heath Robinson Museum at West House, Pinner when it opens.

Image

William Heath Robinson's Deceiving the invader as to the state of the tide

Nation/region

London

Grant awarded

£250,000

Award date

25/02/2015

Related News

Heath Robinson cartoons saved for the nation

A large collection of works by the much-loved cartoonist and illustrator William Heath Robinson have been saved for the nation thanks to grants from the National Heritage Memorial Fund (NHMF) and the Art Fund.