

Acquisition of the Mostyn Psalter Hours

The British Library has acquired The Mostyn Psalter-Hours, produced in 13th-century London, with a grant of £390,000 from the National Heritage Memorial Fund (NHMF) and funding from other generous supporters.

The book is a large-format manuscript comprising a calendar, decorated with 20 small miniatures of the labours of the months and the zodiac, and a Psalter containing eight of the ten large historiated initials, the Hours of the Virgin, Office of the dead and other typical text.

The manuscript is made of parchment, 160 folio and approximately 325 x 225 mm. It was rebound in 1975 with dark red goatskin over wood. The artist is unidentified although it is stylistically similar to the important Windmill Psalter now in the Morgan Library, New York.

Image

Page from the Mostyn Psalter-Hours
Region
London

Grant awarded

£390,000

Year awarded

2017

Related News

13th-century Mostyn Psalter-Hours saved for the nation

A rare and beautiful Psalter – a volume of psalms – produced in 13th-century London has been acquired by the British Library. The Mostyn Psalter-Hours was acquired for the nation with a grant of £390,000 from the National Heritage Memorial Fund (NHMF) and funding from other generous supporters.