

Terms of use

Access to the pages of this website and the content loaded on it is subject to the following terms:

Copyright and permitted use

All copyright, database right and other rights that subsist in the home page and in the sub-domain pages of this website are owned by the National Heritage Memorial Fund or other parties.

Subject to what is said below material from the website may be downloaded, viewed, printed, copied on the hard disk of your computer (but not photocopied) to make an application for a grant or otherwise for your own personal or internal purposes in good faith. Save as expressly permitted by law, any other use requires our prior written agreement.

The permission to reproduce copyright material from the website does not extend to any material on the website which is identified as being the copyright of a third party. Authorisation to reproduce such material must be obtained from the copyright holders concerned.

You agree not to create a database (electronic or otherwise) that includes material downloaded or otherwise obtained from our website, or to transmit or re-circulate any material obtained from our website to any third party or to remove the copyright or trade mark notice(s) from any copies of any material made in accordance with these terms.

The information on this website is provided for convenience as part of the service we offer. However, where information originates from outside the National Heritage Memorial Fund, we cannot accept any liability for its accuracy or content. Visitors who rely on this information do so at their own risk.

The National Heritage Memorial Fund is not responsible for the contents or reliability of any websites that are linked to our own and does not necessarily endorse the views expressed within them. Listing shall not be taken as endorsement of any kind. We cannot guarantee that these links will work all the time and we have no control over availability of the linked pages.

The National Heritage Memorial Fund cannot guarantee that your use of the website will be free from error and/or uninterrupted.

Whilst all reasonable effort has been taken to ensure that the pages of the website and material which may be downloaded from the website are free from viruses, the National Heritage Memorial Fund gives no warranties that they are virus-free and users are responsible for ensuring that they have installed adequate virus-checking software.

Privacy policy

If you send us information about yourself from this site, unless we state otherwise, we will not use this information other than to answer your query or for the purpose made explicit. We may keep a record of your enquiry to help us develop our services.

If you ask to join our mailing list, we may send you information about the National Heritage Memorial Fund, or contact you about our business from time to time. Please let us know if you wish to be removed from the mailing list or if information about you changes.

Names and logos

The names, images and logos identifying the National Heritage Memorial Fund or third parties and their products and services, are the proprietary marks of the National Heritage Memorial Fund, and/or third parties.

Variations

These terms may be varied from time to time. Please ensure that you review these terms and conditions regularly as you will be deemed to have accepted a variation if you continue to use this site after any variation has been posted.
