

Aberdulais Falls, West Glamorgan

Conservation of of the famous Aberdulais Falls found on the River Dulais, an area of great natural beauty which has important industrial archaeological remains. Water power was employed at the site for over 400 years from copper smelting in the 1580's to tin manufacture in the late 19th century.

Region

Wales

Grant awarded

£55,000

Year awarded

1981