

Acquisition of the Newark Torc

Acquisition of the Newark Torc, which was discovered and declared treasure in 2005. The torc dates from 200-50BC and the exhibition would focus on British Iron Age history and the role of the locality within that.

Image

The Newark Torc

Nation/region

East Midlands

Grant awarded

£285,000

Award date

21/09/2006

Related News

Style Icon - 200 years B.C.

The Torc is an exceptional piece of craftsmanship, even by today's standards and two thousand years ago it would have been even more so. It is believed to have been a highly treasured symbol of power and influence and would only have been worn by men or women of exceptionally high status.