

Albion Street Museum

Research and conservation project that sought to recover through formal information and artefacts associated with the bombing and destruction of Hull's municipal museum in Albion Street during World War II. The Museum retains a range of items recovered from the site of the excavation plus the excavation archive.

Region

Yorkshire and the Humber

Grant awarded

£20,000

Year awarded

1988