

GMAM Garratt Locomotive

Acquisition and transport back to the UK of a steam locomotive built between 1954-58 at Springburn, NE of Glasgow for export of South Africa. It is the last surviving steam engine built in Scotland. For display at Springburn Museum and eventually at a new Locomotive Hall on the site.

Nation/region

Scotland

Grant awarded

£17,000

Award date

28/06/1990