

Organ of St Mildred's, Preston-next-Wingham

Repair of the organ at St Mildred's Church, Preston-next-Wingham. It was built in 1858 by John Eagles. It has a tonal scheme which is advanced for its day and a mechanism which is unique in design and construction. It was not designed for Preston but was possibly built for an exhibition.

Region

South East England

Grant awarded

£1,500

Year awarded

1985